HRCE Acceptable E-Mail Use Protocol and Consent Form

E-mail is an important mechanism for communication at the Halifax Regional Centre for Education. However, use of Halifax Regional Centre for Education's electronic mail systems and services are a privilege, not a right, and therefore must be used with respect and in accordance with the goals and policies of the Halifax Regional Centre for Education.

The objectives of this policy are to outline appropriate and inappropriate use of the Halifax Regional Centre for Education's e-mail systems and services in order to minimize disruptions to services and activities, as well as comply with applicable policies and laws.

Scope

This policy applies to all e-mail systems and services owned by the Halifax Regional Centre for Education, all e-mail account users/holders at the Halifax Regional Centre for Education (both temporary and permanent), and all company e-mail records.

Account Activation/Termination

Access to e-mail accounts at the Halifax Regional Centre for Education is controlled through individual accounts and passwords. Each user of the Centre's e-mail system will be required to read and sign a copy of this E-Mail Acceptable Use Protocol prior to receiving an e-mail access account and password.

It is the responsibility of the employee to protect the confidentiality of their account and password information.

All employees of the Halifax Regional Centre for Education are entitled to an e-mail account. E-mail accounts will be granted to third party non-employees on a case-by-case basis. Possible non-employees that may be eligible for access include:

- Contractors.
- Term employees.

Applications for these temporary accounts must be submitted in writing to the Coordinator, Information Technology by the Director of the department.

E-mail access will be terminated when the employee or third party terminates their association with the Halifax Regional Centre for Education, unless other arrangements are made. The Halifax Regional Centre for Education is under no obligation to store or forward the contents of an individual's e-mail inbox/outbox after the term of their employment has ceased.

General Expectations of HRCE staff

Important official communications are often delivered via e-mail. As a result, employees of the Halifax Regional Centre for Education with e-mail accounts are expected to check their e-mail in a consistent and timely manner during regular business hours (8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.) so that they are aware of important announcements and updates, as well as for fulfilling business- and role-oriented tasks.

Unless an employee is away from the office for an extended period of time, every effort will be made to acknowledge or respond to incoming e-mail within one or two working days.

E-mail users are responsible for mailbox management, including organization and cleaning. If a user subscribes to a mailing list, he or she must also be aware of how to un-subscribe their e-mail address from the list, and is responsible for doing so in the event that their e-mail address changes.

E-mail users are also expected to comply with normal standards of professional and personal courtesy and conduct. E-mail use at the Halifax Regional Centre for Education will comply with all applicable laws, all the Halifax Regional Centre for Education policies, and all the Halifax Regional Centre for Education contracts.

Appropriate Uses of e-mail include:

- Communicating with fellow employees, schools, business partners of the Halifax Regional Centre for Education, and clients within the context of an individual's assigned responsibilities.
- Acquiring or sharing information necessary or related to the performance of an individual's assigned responsibilities.
- Participating in educational or professional development activities.

In addition to requirements defined through the Board's Acceptable Use Policy, inappropriate uses of e-mail include:

- Viewing, copying, altering, or deletion of e-mail accounts or files belonging to the Halifax Regional Centre for Education or another individual without authorized permission.
- Sending of unreasonably large e-mail attachments. The total size of an individual e-mail message sent (including attachment) should be 2mb's or less.
- Opening e-mail attachments from unknown or unsigned sources. Attachments are the primary source of computer viruses and should be treated with utmost caution.

- Sharing e-mail account passwords with another person, or attempting to obtain another person's e-mail account password. E-mail accounts are only to be used by the registered user.
- Excessive personal use of the Halifax Regional Centre for Education e-mail resources. The Halifax Regional Centre for Education allows limited personal use for communication with family and friends, independent learning, and public service so long as it does not interfere with staff productivity, pre-empt any business activity, or consume more than a trivial amount of resources. The Halifax Regional Centre for Education prohibits personal use of its e-mail systems and services for unsolicited mass mailings, non-Halifax Regional Centre for Education commercial activity, political campaigning, dissemination of chain letters, and use by non-employees.

Monitoring and Confidentiality

The e-mail systems and services used at the Halifax Regional Centre for Education are owned by Centre, and are therefore its property. This gives the Halifax Regional Centre for Education the right to monitor any and all e-mail traffic passing through its e-mail system. Staff will not actively read end-user e-mail. However, e-mail messages may be inadvertently read by IT staff during the normal course of managing the e-mail system.

In addition, backup copies of e-mail messages may exist, despite end-user deletion, in compliance with the Halifax Regional School Board's records retention policy¹. The goals of these backup and archiving procedures are to ensure system reliability and prevent business data loss.

Use extreme caution when communicating confidential or sensitive information via e-mail. Keep in mind that all e-mail messages sent outside of the Halifax Regional Centre for Education become the property of the receiver. A good rule is to not communicate anything that you wouldn't feel comfortable being made public. Under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act all electronic communications are subject to FOIPOP requests.

Reporting Misuse

Any allegations of misuse should be promptly reported to Coordinator, Information Technology. If you receive an offensive e-mail, do not forward, delete, or reply to the message. Instead, report it directly to the individual named above.

Filling out Form TD1NS

Fill out this form only if you are an employee working in Nova Scotia or a pensioner residing in Nova Scotia and any of the following apply:

- you have a new employer or payer and you will receive salary, wages, commissions, pensions, employment insurance benefits, or any other remuneration;
- you want to change amounts you previously claimed (for example, the number of your eligible dependants has changed); or
- you want to increase the amount of tax deducted at source.

Sign and date it, and give it to your employer or payer.

If you do not fill out Form TD1NS, your employer or payer will deduct taxes after allowing the basic personal amount only.

More than one employer or payer at the same time

If you have more than one employer or payer at the same time and you have already claimed personal tax credit amounts on another Form TD1NS for 2019, you cannot claim them again. If your total income from all sources will be more than the personal tax credits you claimed on another Form TD1NS, check this box, enter "0" on line 12 and do not fill in lines 2 to 11.

Total income less than total claim amount

Check this box if your total income for the year from all employers and payers will be less than your total claim amount on line 12. Then your employer or payer will not deduct tax from your earnings.

Additional tax to be deducted

If you wish to have more tax deducted, fill in "Additional tax to be deducted" on the federal Form TD1.

Reduction in tax deductions

You can ask to have less tax deducted on your income tax return if you are eligible for deductions or non-refundable tax credits that are not listed on this form (for example, periodic contributions to a registered retirement savings plan (RRSP), child care or employment expenses, charitable donations, and tuition and education amounts carried forward from the previous year). To make this request, fill out Form T1213, Request to Reduce Tax Deductions at Source, to get a letter of authority from your tax services office. Give the letter of authority to your employer or payer. You do not need a letter of authority if your employer deducts RRSP contributions from your salary.

Filling out Form TD1

Fill out this form only if any of the following apply:

- you have a new employer or payer and you will receive salary, wages, commissions, pensions, employment insurance benefits, or any other remuneration
- you want to change amounts you previously claimed (for example, the number of your eligible dependants has changed)
- you want to claim the deduction for living in a prescribed zone
- you want to increase the amount of tax deducted at source

Sign and date it, and give it to your employer or payer.

If you do not fill out Form TD1, your employer or payer will deduct taxes after allowing the basic personal amount only.

More than one employer or payer at the same time

If you have more than one employer or payer at the same time and you have already claimed personal tax credit amounts on another Form TD1 for 2019, you cannot claim them again. If your total income from all sources will be more than the personal tax credits you claimed on another Form TD1, check this box, enter "0" on line 13 and do not fill in lines 2 to 12.

Total income less than total claim amount

Check this box if your total income for the year from all employers and payers will be less than your total claim amount on line 13. Your employer or payer will not deduct tax from your earnings.

Non-residents (Only fill in if you are a non-resident of Canada.)

As a non-resident of Canada, will 90% or more of your world income be included in determining your taxable income earned in Canada in 2019?

- Yes (Fill out the previous page.)
- No (Enter "0" on line 13, and do not fill in lines 2 to 12 as you are not entitled to the personal tax credits.)

If you are unsure of your residency status, call the international tax and non-resident enquiries line at 1-800-959-8281.

Provincial or territorial personal tax credits return

If your claim amount on line 13 is more than $12,069, you also have to fill out a provincial or territorial TD1 form. If you are an employee, use the Form TD1 for your province or territory of employment. If you are a pensioner, use the Form TD1 for your province or territory of residence. Your employer or payer will use both this federal form and your most recent provincial or territorial Form TD1 to determine the amount of your tax deductions.

If you are claiming the basic personal amount only (your claim amount on line 13 is $12,069), your employer or payer will deduct provincial or territorial taxes after allowing the provincial or territorial basic personal amount.

Note: If you are a Saskatchewan resident supporting children under 18 at any time during 2019, you may be able to claim the child amount on Form TD1SK, 2019 Saskatchewan Personal Tax Credits Return. Therefore, you may want to fill out Form TD1SK even if you are only claiming the basic personal amount on this form.

Deduction for living in a prescribed zone

If you live in the Northwest Territories, Nunavut, Yukon, or another prescribed northern zone for more than six months in a row beginning or ending in 2019, you can claim any of the following:

- $11.00 for each day that you live in the prescribed northern zone
- $22.00 for each day that you live in the prescribed northern zone if, during that time, you live in a dwelling that you maintain, and you are the only person living in that dwelling who is claiming this deduction

Employees living in a prescribed intermediate zone can claim 50% of the total of the above amounts.

For more information, go to canada.ca/taxes-northern-residents.

Additional tax to be deducted

You may want to have more tax deducted from each payment, especially if you receive other income, including non-employment income such as CPP or QPP benefits, or old age security pension. By doing this, you may not have to pay as much tax when you file your income tax return. To choose this option, state the amount of additional tax you want to have deducted from each payment. To change this deduction later, fill out a new Form TD1.

Reduction in tax deductions

You can ask to have less tax deducted on your income tax return if you are eligible for deductions or non-refundable tax credits that are not listed on this form (for example, periodic contributions to a registered retirement savings plan (RRSP), child care or employment expenses, charitable donations, and tuition and education amounts carried forward from the previous year). To make this request, fill out Form T1213, Request to Reduce Tax Deductions at Source, to get a letter of authority from your tax services office. Give the letter of authority to your employer or payer. You do not need a letter of authority if your employer deducts RRSP contributions from your salary.
